

CHREN/FFVT Virtual Workshop

Flight, Governance and Human Rights

9-10 July 2020

The cooperation project “Forced Migration and Refugee Studies: Networks and Transfer” (FFVT) aims to strengthen interdisciplinary research on refugees and forced migration in Germany. The project, which is funded by the German Federal Ministry of Education and Research (BMBF), therefore brings together research on topics such as migration, development, conflict, climate change, health, governance and human rights. It also promotes the dialogue between academia, practitioners, the media and politics.

As part of the FFVT project, the CHREN is organizing a first workshop on July 9th and 10th. In this workshop, distinguished scientists and politicians will address current challenges at the global, European and national levels of asylum, migration, governance and human rights: “Where do the Global Compacts on Migration and Refugees lead to?” “What ought to be done about the Common European Asylum system?” “What can reasonably be expected from the German EU Council Presidency, starting in July, in the area of migration and refugees – and in view of Corona?”
